Named after Delaware’s 73rd governor, the Jack A. Markell Trail connects the cities of Wilmington and New Castle. The trail begins at the DuPont Environmental Education Center, crosses the Christina River on a newly constructed pedestrian and bicycle bridge, and incorporates the Industrial Track and Heritage trails. Together with the Wilmington Riverwalk, it offers nearly 7 miles of pathway. On the back of this piece, you will find trail lengths, entry points, and local destinations.

JACK A. MARKELL TRAIL

INDUSTRIAL TRACK TRAIL

HERITAGE TRAIL

ONLINE RESOURCES

For more information or to obtain access to the Markell Trail logos, fonts and other materials, visit the Jack A. Markell Trail official website at DELAWAREGREENWAYS.ORG/PORTFOLIO_PAGE/JACKAMARKELL-TRAIL/.

SOCIAL MEDIA:
#MarkellTrail

TRAIL SAFETY

It’s important to discuss safety with walkers, runners, and bikers, as there are two roadway crossings on the trail.

- Use caution when crossing roadways.
- Be aware of surroundings.
- Helmets are suggested for all bicyclists, and required by law for those under the age of 18.